A Friendly Face in the Crowd

Below: Every graduate loves to look into the crowd and see a friendly face. Graduates also had to pick one person to take onto the stage with them as their sponsor. Sponsors were seated just behind the graduate.

Oh the Feeling of Accomplishment

Left: A happy couple shows off her diploma. Each year, Methodist College has two graduations. The December graduation takes place in Reeves Auditorium usually to a packed house.

Turning the Tassel

Kris McLamb can't help but mess with her tassel as she combs the crowd for family and friends. Moving of the tassel from one side of the cap to the other is a tradition during the graduation ceremony.

First To Master Methodist

Congratulations to the first graduates of the Methodist College P.A. Master's program. These students will be a mark in Methodist History.

Smiles, Nothing but Smiles

As these Sara Salter head into the ceremony they pause to have their day remembered. Graduates line up outside of Reeves Auditorium for the processional.

Nothing Gonna Hold Me Back

Graduate Fred Poteat raises his hands and holds his diploma proudly as he crosses the stage. Poteat graduated as a double major in Business Administration and Marketing.

One Spirit Sings Congratulations

Methodist College Vocal Ensemble, also known as One Spirit sings for the crowd at graduation. Incorporating song into the program is an important part of the monumental occasion.

Walk the Stage

Dancing Away

The Great Outdoors

A Man and his Guitar

Chris Brock makes beautiful music during the Fall Break Trip. A number of worship services are offered on campus, which include anything from bible study to Fellowship of Christian Athletes to contemporary ministries.

Strike a Pose, There's Nothing To It

The group takes a break from fall break-ing it to pose for the camera.

Far Right: White water rafting was just one of many activities that the group participated in during the fall break time.

Bandana Heads

Scott Rush, Mike Ippolito and Ben Hansen sing in praise after a long day white water rafting.

Girls Just Want to Have Fun
Brooke Thompson, Jennifer Willoughby, Amanda Whyly, Doris Jackson & Krystal Richardson are all smiles during a worship service.

Goofin' Off

There is a time for quiet reflection, and then there is a time for monkeying around. These members of some of the various campus ministry groups show how much fun they like to have while still living spiritual lives.

In the Classroom

Dealing with the daily hum drum of classroom life can be tedious. But it's a necessity to make the grade and stay in the game called "College Life." Listed below are some of the great excuses our professors heard from us about why we were not in class the day (or in some cases, week) before! Cheers to all the ones that worked! And cheers to thinking up better excuses in the future!

1. I didn't have any clean underwear.
2. I was here but I didn't want you to have to hold my barf bucket.
3. My mom didn't want me to leave her home by herself.
4. My roommate puked on my only pair of shoes.
5. Dean Williams told me I didn't have to.
6. I got arrested.
7. I sprained (insert body part) in practice.
8. I ran out of gas on Ramsey Street. By the time I got here you were gone.
9. Somebody stole my car.
10. I forgot.

Athletics and Intellect Merge

Junior and Methodist College Quarterback, Chris Ronchetti, is pictured here in one of his classes. Ronchetti balances life on the field with life in the classroom.

Far Top: Three gentlemen show how they get their study on. They only goof around when they know they are getting the picture taken; the rest of the time in the classroom is spent listening intently to the professor.

Small Classes, Big Attention

One reason why students choose to attend Methodist College is the small class size. The ratio of students to teachers is 13 to 1. Students receive a lot of individual attention.

Soldiers in the Studio

Junior and ROTC Cadet Will Montoya is a Mass Communications major. Here Montoya is pictured in his Communications Theory class during the spring.

Artwork. Hard Work in the Classroom

Frank Smith, a senior and superb artist, spent many, many hours in the classroom developing the techniques of his trade. Frank is studying to be an Art Teacher in Cumberland County.

The Floor is Just as Good

This student crashes on the floor after classes. Students can be seen knocked out in all sorts of places around campus.

Top Ten Things to do in the Residence Halls

1. Skip Classes
2. Take a Nap
3. Watch T.V.
4. Get in Trouble
5. Hang out with Friends
6. Fight with your Roommate
7. Talk on the Phone
8. Surf the Internet
9. Hang out with significant other
10. Not do your homework

Waiting & Waiting

Above: This student waits for his friends to arrive in the dorm. In the waiting area of the dorms are couches, ping-pong tables, and sign-in areas.

Playstation during Playtime

Right: Many a night, a PS2 can be heard from room to room. PS2 is just one of many video games that students spend their free time playing, especially in the all-male halls.

Mischief in the Making

Right: Male students in Santord dorm look like they have gotten caught by the camera. Students, especially in the male dorms, loved to play practical jokes on each other to keep the fun going.

From the Residence

Girl time in the Union

Heather Martin, Holly Knox, Tracey Gott, Jodi Dulin, and Charlotte Williams take time to eat and relax in the Union. All the girls played were on the golf team and were also roomates/suitemates.

Top Ten Things to do in the Union

1. Visit the Bookstore
2. Find a job in Career Services
3. Say "hi" to Dean Blane
4. Check out the International Student Board
5. Eat food with friends
6. Laugh
7. Flirt
8. Play Pool
9. Go to MC Late Night
10. Play Ping Pong

Pretty Faces in the Crowd

Megan Galganowicz and Bilan DeCarmin relax and take in some lunch at the Lion's Den in the Berns Student Center. Often you can spot friends hanging out between or after classes.

At the Pool Tables

Jorge Bravo prepares for a game of pool. The Union has pool tables & ping pong tables where many students can be seen everyday.

Teams Battle It Out In an All Out Gameshow Showdown

The game show, Family Feud, was brought to Methodist College for MC Late Night. Tons of people showed up for the event and were able to dress up into several different costumes ranging from Flinstones to Army fatigues.

Three lovely smiles from the girls of the Zeta Phi Alpha sorority as they watch the game.

The Late Night Show: Opening Bash

On August 20th Methodist College began the year with its annual Opening Bash Ceremony. Students were offered a variety of activities from simulating skydiving, to shooting em' down with laser tag, to wax hands & feet. As always, students received free T-shirts. At Opening Bash Ceremony many students reunite with old friends, faculty and staff while the freshmen get to meet friends and classmates that will hopefully last the remainder of their college career. The Opening Bash Ceremony is usually hosted by the Student Activities Committee, a group of students in which anyone can belong to that plans the entertainment for MC students.

The Late Night Show:

Western Night

Western Night brought all of the "cowgirls and cowboys" from Methodist College together for a traditional 'ho-down. Students could ride a mechanical bull, watch a national pool bank hit last shot, or take hayrack rides across campus. Students ate homemade ice cream while dressing up as their favorite western character; and just enjoyed a night of good 'ol western fun.

THE LATE NIGHT SHOW:

THE MONSTER MASH

Each year during mid-fall, the mood on campus changes... things seem to turn a little darker, a little more thrilling and a lot more zany.

A full moon appears and talk of ghosts wandering the halls of Cumberland can be heard.

This is when Methodist College students decide that just because you are in college and beginning to grow up, doesn't mean you can't act like children every once in a while, and enjoying the festivities that Halloween brings.

Students come out in full force to enjoy the Resident Hall Advisors Halloween Costume

Dance.

It was yet another MC Late Night full of chaos... er fun. Students shopped at thrift stores, costume shops or got out sewing kits in order to enjoy Halloween and trick-or-treating the only way Methodist College can.

Until Next Year... Happy Halloween.

Amanda Moffett & William McPhaul

Homecoming 2003 began with Spirit Week and ended with the dance where sophomore Amanda Moffett and senior William McPhaul were crowned MC Homecoming Queen and King. The themed festivities were entitled "It's a Jungle Out There," and the campus was a'buzz. The football team won, alumni were there to visit and students, faculty and staff were in high spirits for this tradition of good 'ol homecoming fun.

RIGHT: Chien McCoy picks his lucky number.
ABOVE: Nicole Pratt and Nelani Salina show off their prizes as Jackson Jean smiles right along with them. As you can see BFEON, Nelani, and Chien are all serious about their bets.

Each week, Methodist College throws out the rules and hosts a night of gambling. Monte Carlo Night is an evening where students become "high rollers" and let the chips fall where they may. Students play with thousands of dollars of fake money, but the stakes are real for them.

Taking these games seriously as names are down for prizes depending on how much money a student has earned. There is a lot of "wheeling & dealing," but at the end of the night, all students come out a winner where no money's lost and everybody has been excited.

 Junior Cadet Jerry Gram bow prepares to qualify at the M16 Rifle Range.

The Methodist College Army ROTC program had an absolute banner year. Our program has continued its tradition of training cadets to be a success in life. Each cadet works to complete a variety of requirements to be commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army upon graduating from Methodist College. First, each cadet participates in organized physical training 3 or 4 days and also strives to excel during the Army Physical Fitness Test (APFT). The APFT involves a rigorous series of exercises, including two minutes of push-ups, two minutes of sit-ups, and a two-mile run. Academically, cadets study hard to meet the challenge of college courses in order to earn their bachelor's degrees. In their military courses, cadets learn about using maps in land navigation, assessing situations in squad and platoon battle drills, and effectively firing an M16 in the field. Most importantly, the cadets learn how to work in teams, make decisions, and lead others to accomplish a goal.

This year, Methodist College Army ROTC will commission 12 cadets, which is the most commissioned since 1983. In addition, four of the twelve graduating cadets were designated Distinguished Military Graduates, which places them in the top 20% of cadets nationwide. The Army ROTC program at Methodist College continues to be ranked among the top programs in the nation and continues to train outstanding officers for the United States Army.

This year's graduates and their assigned branches are:

- Sarika Bellis, Adjutant General Corps
- Melinda DeShong, Adjutant General Corps
- Charles Heaton, Engineer Corps
- Gregory Jorgenson, Ordnance Corps
- Chris Kidd, Engineer Corps
- Daniel McKeel, Field Artillery
- Lauren Maloney, Transportation Corps
- Jason Meier, Engineer Corps
- Sonji Nock, Chemical Corps
- Tara Prewitt, Quartermaster Corps
- Marc Raphael, Ordnance Corps

Physician's Assistant Program

P.A. Master's Program in it's Second Year

Our Physician Assistant studies are geared toward preparing individuals who will be health care professionals licenced to practice medicine with physician supervision.

Physician assistants provide services such as

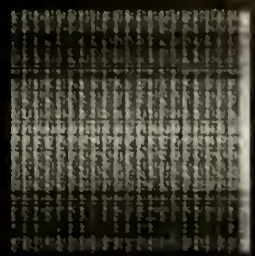

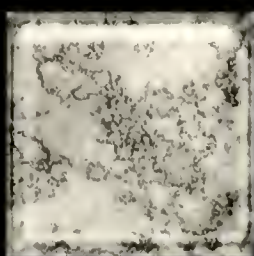

- taking medical histories
- diagnosing common illnesses
- performing physical examinations
- ordering and interpreting lab tests
- setting fractures
- assisting and or perform minor surgery
- counseling patients

Physician Assistants are extremely beneficial in providing primary care as well as medical care in specialty fields. A commitment to caring is the foundation of the physician assistant profession.

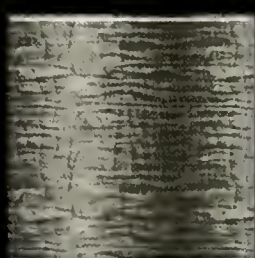

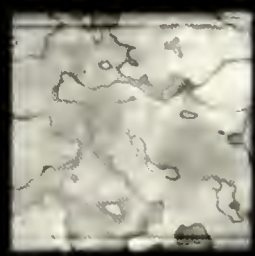

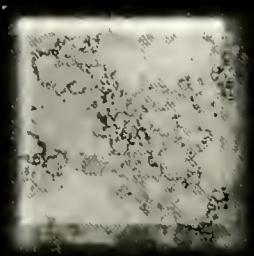

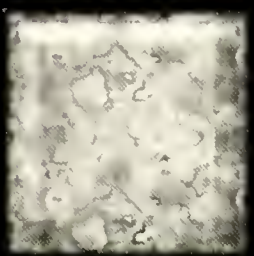

The Medical Science Building is housed on the Methodist College Campus. The Program received its provisional accreditation from the Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs in April 1996, admitted its first class in May 1996, received full accreditation on October 1998, and graduated its first physician assistant class in May 1998. In April 2000, the program transitioned to a master's level program.

Cross Country

The Methodist Monarch men's cross-country team placed 20th at the NCAA Division III South Regionals. Methodist garnered 632 points to place 20th out of 29 teams total.

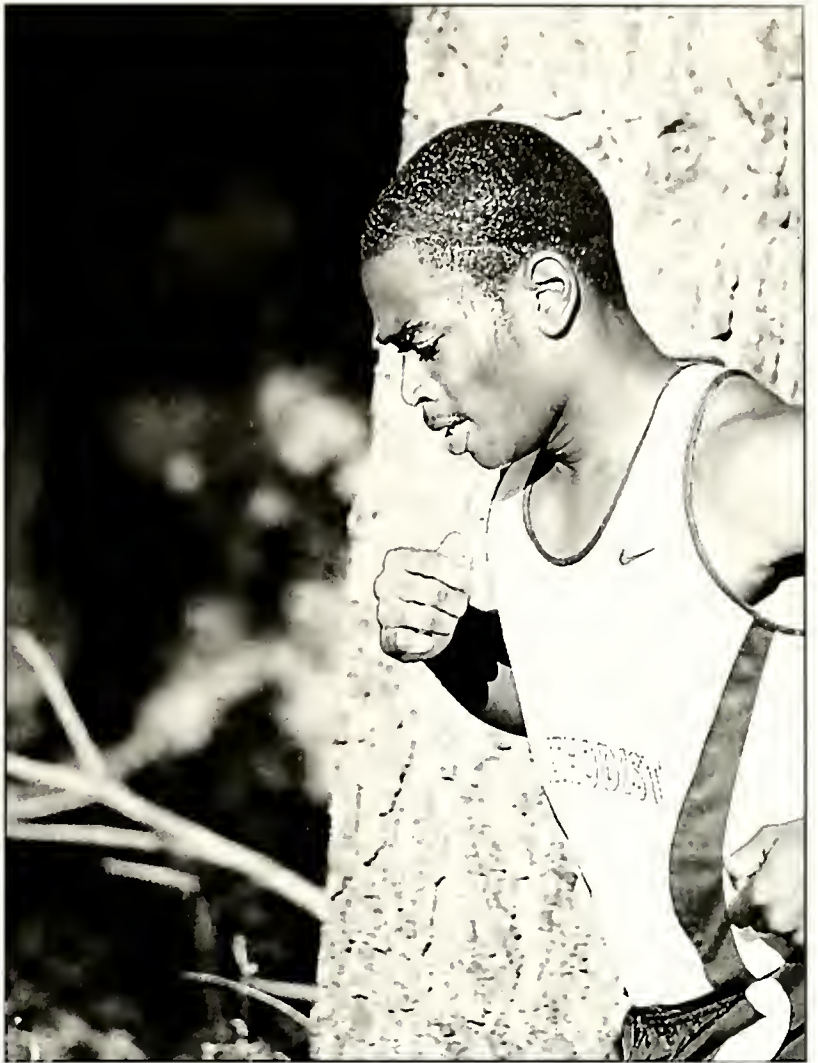

For the Lady Monarchs, Lisa Saunders finished 80th in 27:04, while Tara Prewitt placed 81st in 27:05. A total of 221 runners competed in the women's race.

Terrance Moore was the top Monarch finisher in 124th with a time of 34:07, while William Helms placed 127th in 35:13. Other finishers for the Monarchs were Derek McLean (130th - 36:18), Brent Huneycutt (32nd - 36:48) and Adoni Stanley (35th - 38:10).

Individually, the Lady Monarchs turned out two All-USA South honorees. Saunders and Prewitt garnered the second-team All-USA South honors.

Being a part of the Methodist College cheerleading and dance team is about more than tossing stunts, dancing at half-time, and grabbing a sign that says, "GO MONARCHS."

It is also about learning how to relate to individuals from all walks of life, working together toward a common goal, and building character and self-esteem.

Cheerleaders and dancers are expected to make serious commitments to their programs. The season begins in August and ends at the conclusion of the NCA/NDA College Cheer and Dance Championships which are held in April.

Speed" matched wits against "Power" in Methodist's final match-up against Shenandoah, and it was "Power" that proved to be too much as Shenandoah rolled to a 35-14 victory over Methodist at Monarch Stadium. The defeat ended Methodist's season at 4-5 overall and 3-3 in the USA South Athletic Conference.

The Methodist Monarchs had four representatives on the 2003 All-USA South Athletic Conference team for football. Quarterback Chris Roncketti, halfback Damarcus Wilson, offensive guard Jonathan Byrd and punter Colt Laney were each second team All-USA South honorees.

Roncketti, a sophomore from Fayetteville, led the USA South in scoring and ranked third in total offense. The 6-foot, 193-pounder completed 56-for-115 passes for 791 yards with six touchdown passes, while rushing for 519 yards on 89 carries with 10 touchdowns. He had the highest single-season rushing yardage for a quarterback at Methodist, and now ranks second all-time in school history in scoring, fourth all-time in passing and seventh in rushing.

Wilson, a junior from Fort Myers, Fla., was the workhorse this season in the Monarch backfield. The 6-foot, 195 pounder led the USA South in all-purpose yards with 981. He rushed for 514 yards on 99 carries with six touchdowns, while catching 20 passes for 304 yards and two touchdown receptions.

Wilson became the fifth Methodist player to eclipse 1,000 yards rushing in his career this season. He is now third all-time with 1,215 yards in three seasons with the Monarchs.

Byrd, a 6-0, 280-pound junior from Maysville, N.C., is a two-year starter at Methodist. He graded out 83 percent in blocking for the season, and allowed only one quarterback sack.

A 6-3, 216-pound freshman from Huntsville, Ala., Laney added a new dimension to the Monarch special teams with superb numbers at punter. He ranked second in the USA South, averaging 39.5 yards a punt. His season-long was a 75-yard blast against Emory & Henry.

Men's Soccer

During Senior Day for the Methodist Monarch men's soccer team, the Monarchs sent Matt Kenworthy, Rob Mangus, Garrison Rudisill and Matt Holmes out on a winning note as Methodist blanked visiting Ferrum 4-0 at Monarch Soccerplex.

The victory ends Methodist's season at 10-7-1 overall and 4-3 in the USA South Athletic Conference. It marks the second straight double-digit victory season for Methodist.

Kevin Gray scored the first two goals for Methodist, while Rudisill and Charles Carswell each added one goal. Rudisill also dished out four assists, and goalkeeper Justin Agema recorded the shutout with seven saves.

Methodist Monarchs had four players honored for the 2003 All-USA South Athletic Conference Teams. Selected first team All-USA South was forward Kevin Gray, while goalkeeper Justin Agema, forward Michael Davis and midfielder Garrison Rudisill were voted second team All-USA South.

Women's Soccer

The banner season for the Methodist Lady Monarch women's soccer team disappointingly came to an end as Methodist dropped a 1-0 decision against Christopher Newport in the semifinals of the 2003 USA South Athletic Conference Tournament. Methodist, co-champions of the USA South in the regular season, finishes its season 12-6-1.

Liz Thuma scored the game's lone goal in the 60th minute for Christopher Newport (15-5). The score occurred after Lady Monarch goalkeeper mishandled a loose ball, and Thuma scored on the deflection.

The Lady Captains' defense proved tough against the potent Methodist offensive attack. Christopher Newport limited Methodist to five shots, while the Lady Captains had 14 shots. LaSalla finished with six saves for the Lady Monarchs.

The 2003 season came to a conclusion for the Methodist Monarch volleyball team as it dropped a 30-12, 30-22, 30-19 decision against Christopher Newport in the USA South Athletic Conference Tournament at Shenandoah. The Monarchs finished their season at 10-24.

Christopher Newport had two seven-point runs in game one and a six- and seven-point run in game three. The Lady Captains hurt the Monarchs with its serving, recording 17 service aces.

Sophomore Jennifer Ellis finished with 13 kills for Methodist, while Julia Peeple and Kate Pevler each had five kills. Megan Friend recorded 24 assists. For Christopher Newport, Jenna Williams recorded 12 kills, while Amber Bradshaw had eight service aces and Erin Bradshaw had six service aces.

*"Time waits for nothing and everything is gonna take it's time."
-Musiq Soulchild*

Another turning point, a fork stuck in the road.
Time grabs you by the wrist, directs you where to go.
So make the best of this test, and don't ask why.
It's not a question, but a lesson learned in time.

It's something unpredictable, but in the end is right.
I hope you had the time of your life.

So take the photographs, and still frames in your mind.

Hang it on a shelf in good health and good time.

Tattoos of memories and dead skin on trial.

For what it's worth, it was worth all the while.

It's something unpredictable, but in the end is right.

I hope you had the time of your life.

It's something unpredictable, but in the end is right.

I hope you had the time of your life.

It's something unpredictable, but in the end is right.

I hope you had the time of your life.

SOPHOMORIC ANTICS...

Class of '04

Ways to get your study on...

#1 Turn topics into songs or poems. It sounds corny and you've heard it before, but it just may work. Take some basic concepts from your textbook and transform them into a goofy song, poem or a rap verse. This simple exercise familiarizes you with key ideas in an almost "fun" way. These chart-toppers become your own invisible cheat sheet!

#2 Have someone quiz you. One of the reasons we all hate studying so much is that it often confines us to either an awful silence or an undesirable solitude. Studying is definitely much more appealing when there is someone there with us. Psychologically, it's less stressful and much easier to learn when the person asking us questions is a friend and not a pot-bellied, wide-eyed instructor.

Stop stalling.
If it's really the night before an exam, stop reading this now... stop putting off what you have to do. Just do it now.

JUST STARTIN' OUT...

8 Things for Freshmen to Remember..

1. HIGH SCHOOL IS OVER. You are only here because you met a demanding set of criteria, and you will only remain here if you work hard and continue to meet an increasingly demanding set of criteria.

2. YOU MUST WORK. Plan on spending 20 hours per week or more on each of your major classes. (It may take you less time than this, but you are advised to be prepared!)

3. CHOOSE A MAJOR EARLY... If you wait until your second year to start on your major, you'll need at least five years to get your degree. If you find that major to be just what you want, that's great. If you find you don't like it, that's great too because you will have made that discovery early in your career, and will have plenty of time to move into a different major.

4. ... but CHOOSE YOUR MAJOR WELL. Make sure you do a "reality check" as you begin taking classes for your major. If you don't enjoy the subject matter, and/or you're not doing well, think seriously about doing something else. If you don't enjoy your major now, you probably won't in five years

5. GENERAL EDUCATION IS IMPORTANT. No matter how good your high school teachers were, they only had time to give you a very superficial introduction to the basic of science, history, literature, and art. Having one general education course per semester will give you more variety in your studies.

6. HELP IS AVAILABLE. A very important form of individual assistance that students frequently fail to use is the professor's office hours. If you think a tutor is necessary, get one early in the semester. If you find yourself depending excessively upon tutors, it's a sign that you're probably in the wrong major.

7. YOU MUST HIT THE GROUND RUNNING. College goes by very quickly. If you allow yourself to fall behind, you simply may never catch up. Time management is a crucial skill for success college.

8. SEE YOUR ADVISOR REGULARLY. It's important not to fall behind in taking the courses required for your major. To avoid this, make sure you get an advisor in your major, talk to an advisor in one of the departments in which you think you might major or see one of the advisors in the Academic Development Center and check with him or her regularly. Failure to consult regularly with an advisor could cost you the price of one extra year.

Methodist College Department of Student Media Presents the student newspaper, yearbook and campus photography in

smallTALK and Carillon

The Student Media Club is a division of Student Development and Services, which serves in expanding the individual growth of students outside of the classroom. With the responsibility of yearbook and a biweekly paper Student Media is one of the hardest working clubs on campus. Staff members must be heavily involved with events and current news. A staff member rarely is not present at an on-campus event. They can usually be seen quickly running around snapping pictures, asking questions, taking notes or doing interviews.

smallTALK, the campus newspaper, successfully printed sixteen issues in the 2003-2004 school year. The Carillon staff took over 3000 pictures for the production of the yearbook.

The Director of Student Media, Lindsey Tederman, works hard to advise and guide the staff. At times, being the advisor of a club can be a thankless job but she continues to work hard and gets things done. Everyone appreciates her efforts that are always topped off by a smile and a heaping spoonful of encouragement. We would like to thank her for her contributions.

The Student Media Club are the first people students come to when they have something or someone to complain about. We love to ask questions and inform everyone what is going on at our school. We want to talk to students, keep people entertained, find out the good gossip and even stir up a little controversy at times. It can get hard but we keep pressing on to get the job done.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a nationally prominent Christian organization and a popular group on the Methodist College campus. In addition to conventions and recreational events, regular meetings are held usually on Tuesday evenings at 9:00 p.m. in the FCA room in the basement of Weaver Residence Hall. Women's Basketball Coach DeeDee Jarman is the advisor for the MC Huddle, which welcomes athletes and non-athletes as well.

FCA'S goals is to present to athletes and coaches, and all whom they influence, the challenge and adventure of receiving Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord, serving Him in their relationships and in the fellowship of church.

Student Teachers

One of the primary concerns of the college, as well as one of its principle opportunities for service, is in the field of teacher education. The college is committed to meeting the need for well-trained and dedicated teachers. It recognizes teacher education as an institution-wide responsibility. The unifying theme for all of the education programs is the development of professional educators as facilitative teachers who understand and value the process of learning.

Vocal Ensemble (One Spirit)

The Methodist College Scholarship Vocal Ensemble (popularly known as "One Spirit" and/or "Monarch Quartet") is a select group of individuals chosen for their personality, moral character, and leadership qualities, as well as for their exceptional talent in music. This group of auditioned musicians is well-known for its frequent performances of a variety of musical styles to wide and varied audiences the area and state.

Zeta Phi Alpha

Julia Peebles, Chemir Bufford, Ashley Smith, Shayla Clemons, Keysu Bowie, Kandice May, Christina Gibson, Tiffany Harrington, Mitchell, Venika Bazemore

The Methodist College baseball program has traditionally been one of the nation's elite in NCAA Division III. During the program's 36-year history, the Monarchs have tallied a 974-346-9 record, including 47 post-season wins. Since 1990, the Monarchs have posted 458 victories, which is the 12th highest among all NCAA Division III member institutions.

Individually, 35 Monarchs have received All-American honors while playing on the pristine turf at Shelley Field. A Methodist baseball player has been on the Academic All-American team on three different occasions. As well, veteran head coach Tom Austin ranks seventh in all-time victories at the NCAA Division III level. His mark of 788-312-8 in 23 seasons at Methodist is just a reminder of his abilities as head coach. Under Austin, Methodist has recorded 25-victory-or-better seasons for 23 straight years.

This year, the Methodist Monarch baseball team finished 16th in the final Division III Top 25 poll of the 2004 season. Methodist had jumped 13 spots to 16th in the previous poll after a runner-up finish at the NCAA Division III South Regionals.

In addition, the Monarchs also held strong within the South Region. Methodist finished tied with ninth-ranked Emory for second in the region, while eighth-ranked Salisbury is first. Rounding out the South Region is Mary Washington in fourth, followed by Virginia Wesleyan, York, Ferrum, Lynchburg and Millsaps.

What has been a banner season for the Methodist Monarchs came to a heartbreaking end as 14th-ranked Randolph-Macon pulled off a late rally to edge the Monarchs 51-50 in the opening round of the 2004 CAA Division III National Tournament at Crenshaw Gymnasium.

Despite the defeat, Methodist has plenty to hang its hat on this season. The Monarchs finish 18-10 for its best record since the 1996-97 season with its first CAA Tournament appearance since 1997. In addition, Methodist also won both the USA South Athletic Conference regular season and tournament championships.

"We came in and did what got us here," said Methodist head coach David Smith. "It just didn't go like we wanted it to."

"For us to just make it here, it's big to us. But we'll be here again, we'll work hard to make it."

Eugene Grant scored 16 points to pace Methodist, while Radmanovic scored 13 points on a perfect 5-for-5 from the field and Thomas added 10 points. However, the inside combination of Porter and center Arthur Hatch was held to a combined seven points.

"We just didn't quit," said Randolph-Macon head coach Mike Rhoades. "They (Methodist) were very composed, but these guys just don't give up. They believe they can do it. I'm very proud of them."

The Methodist College women's basketball team has surged into the top of the pack of NCAA Division III South Region teams. While putting their best effort into their team, the Lady Monarchs have captured at least a share of three Dixie Intercollegiate Athletic Conference regular season titles, have won two DIAC Tournament championships and advanced to two NCAA Division III National Tournaments.

The Lady Monarchs have posted at least 16 wins in each of the past five campaigns with the school's best record coming in the 1991-92 season when Methodist posted a 22-6 mark. Under current head coach DeeDee Jarman, the Lady Monarchs have won an impressive 66 percent of their games.

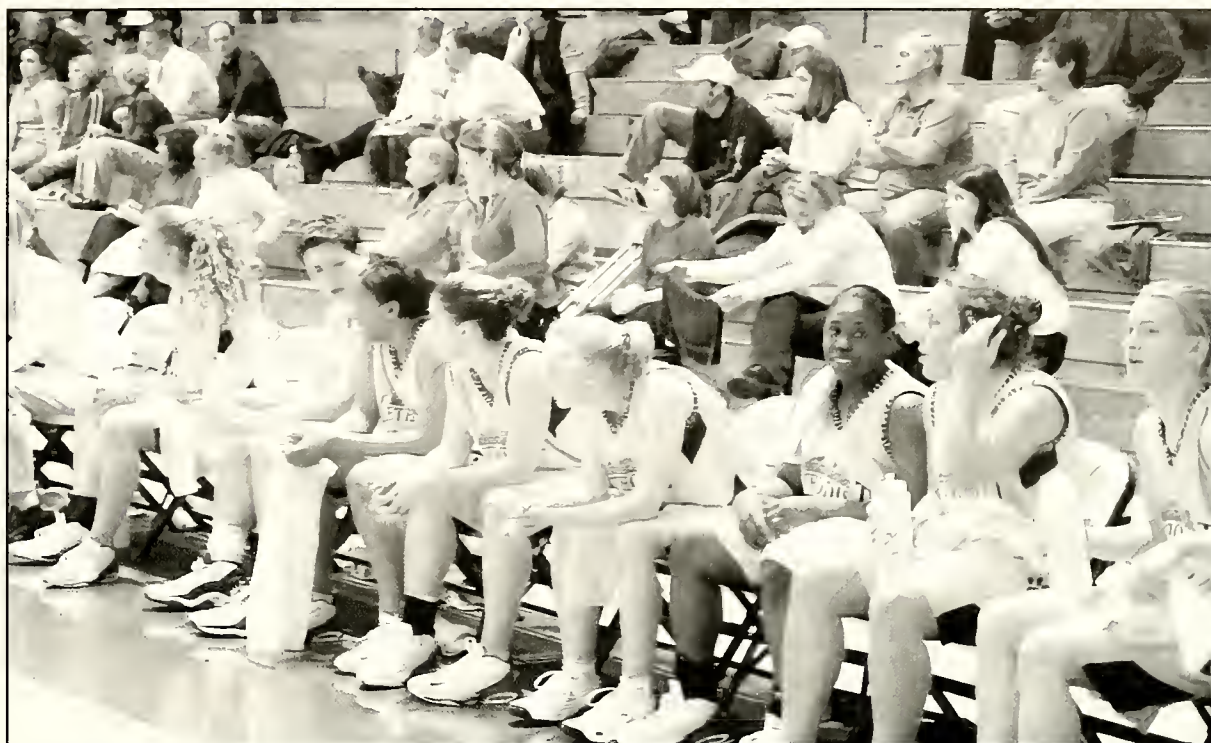

Individually, the Lady Monarchs have totaled 22 All-Conference selections, two DIAC Player of the Year honors, and a pair of DIAC Coach of the Year honors.

Division III National Champions USA South Conference Champions

The hopes for a 10th NCAA Division III men's golf national championship did not come to fruition for the Methodist Monarchs in the final round of the tournament. The Monarchs shot a final-round 300 on Thursday to finish fourth overall with a 1,192. The Monarchs finished one stroke behind USA South Athletic Conference rival Greensboro and three strokes behind national runner-up Redlands. Gustavus Adolphus won the national championship with a 1,178.

The Monarchs's Adam Horton shot a 74 to finish with a 289, good for a three-way tie for third with Oglethorpe's Trent Erb and Greensboro's Jonathon Dudley. Ohio Wesleyan's Chad Poling won the individual national championship with a 282, two strokes ahead of Gustavus Adolphus' Luke Benoit. The finish garnered Horton first team Division III All-American honors for a second straight year.

In addition for Methodist, James Stewart finished tied for 19th with a 300 (75-80-74), earning honorable mention All-American honors, while Eric Dugas finished tied for 36th with a 304 (80-74-75-75). James Ondo finished tied for 48th with a 308 (78-77-72-81) and Michael Townsend finished tied for 68th with a 313 (8-77-81-77).

Seven was definitely the lucky number for the Methodist Lady Monarchs as they captured the 2004 NCAA Division III National Championship at The Golf Courses of Lawsonia. The title marks the seventh straight for Methodist and a whopping 17 in the last 19 seasons.

This season's championship was the closest in many seasons for Methodist. The Lady Monarchs fended off a strong challenge by Mary Hardin-Baylor, winning by two strokes. Methodist finished with a 1,303, compared to 1,305 for Mary Hardin-Baylor. It came down, literally, to the final hole of the tournament.

Williams, a freshman, shot a final-round 84 to finish tied for second place with Concordia's Katie Taylor. The duo finished two strokes behind individual national champion Brittany Cary from McMurry.

In addition to Williams, Heather Martin finished 11th with a 327 (82-81-78-81), while Hope Thomas finished tied for 19th with a 332 (80-85-81-86). Melissa Arnett and Jennifer Lymangood each tied for 31st with a 340.

The Methodist College women's lacrosse team became the school's 19th intercollegiate sport (10th for women) in the spring of 2002, and, in three short seasons, the Monarchs are a championship program. The Methodist lacrosse program is the southern-most NCAA Division III women's program in the country.

This past spring the young Monarch squad turned the corner, finishing 7-6 to claim a share of the USA South Athletic Conference regular season championship. In addition, the Monarchs set a school record for victories in a season and recorded the program's first winning season. Individually, junior attack Emily Neilsen was honored as USA South Player of the Year and first-year head coach Jill Penrose was voted USA South Coach of the Year.

The first two initial seasons for women's lacrosse at Methodist were dedicated to establishing a solid foundation for continued success in the years to come. With Penrose in control and a talented nucleus returning, the championship fortunes should continue for Methodist's newest program.

The Methodist Monarch softball team placed four players on the 2004 Division III All-Atlantic South Region team including Jennifer Patrick, Kristen Wallace and Ashley Abrams were each selected to the second team, while Jennifer Sorensen was the third team selection.

The quartet played an instrumental role in leading Methodist to a 30-14 season overall and 12-4 mark in the USA South Athletic Conference.

Patrick, a senior from Northern Cambria, Penn., led the Monarchs in hitting this season. Patrick finished her Monarch career with the school record for triples in her career. She was also a three-time All-Conference selection for her career.

Wallace, a senior from Fayetteville, N.C., hit .355 with 41 runs scored, 14 stolen bases and nine RBIs. She was a mainstay for three seasons at the top of the lineup and was a two-time All-American in centerfield. Wallace was a three-time All-Conference selection for her career.

Abrams, a junior from Mooresville, N.C., enjoyed a breakthrough season with a .371 average with two home runs and 22 RBIs. In addition, Abrams also scored 12 runs and led the Monarchs in doubles with 12.

A sophomore from Spotsylvania, Va., Sorensen was arguably Methodist's best pitcher this season. She went 13-4 with a 1.21 earned-run average with 80 strikeouts and 22 walks.

For the second straight season, the Methodist Monarch men's tennis team came up a tad short in its quest for a conference championship.

Battling Averett neck-and-neck in the 2004 USA South Athletic Conference Tournament at Christopher Newport, Methodist finished a close second to the Cougars for the second straight year. Averett recorded 56 points, two points ahead of Methodist for the tournament championship.

The tournament was close as it could get. Methodist won three titles in singles and one in doubles, while Averett also won three singles titles, but twice in doubles. The difference was at No. 5 singles, where Methodist didn't advance to the finals.

Winning singles titles and earning first team All-USA South for the Monarchs at singles were Kevin Criscoe.

At the beginning of the season, new Methodist women's tennis coach Kelly Brown wondered if she had the numbers to field a full team. However, her team proved to be the best.

Spearheaded by ending the regular season with eight straight victories, Methodist used the momentum to win the 2004 USA South Athletic Conference Tournament at Christopher Newport. The Lady Monarchs won with 57 points, 15 points ahead of second place Christopher Newport.

It was the third straight conference title for Methodist and the 10th overall. Courtney Bull (No. 2), Christie Noble (No. 4), Julie Angrick (No. 5) and Lauren Maloney (No. 6) each won singles titles and earned first team All-USA South honors. Bull defeated Peace's Charlotte Davis 6-3, 6-1, Noble knocked off Katrina Murphy from Christopher Newport 7-6 (7-5), 6-2, Angrick bested Christopher Newport's Natalie Pitts 6-4, 1-6, 6-3 and Maloney prevailed over Jen Auchter from Christopher Newport 6-4, 6-0.

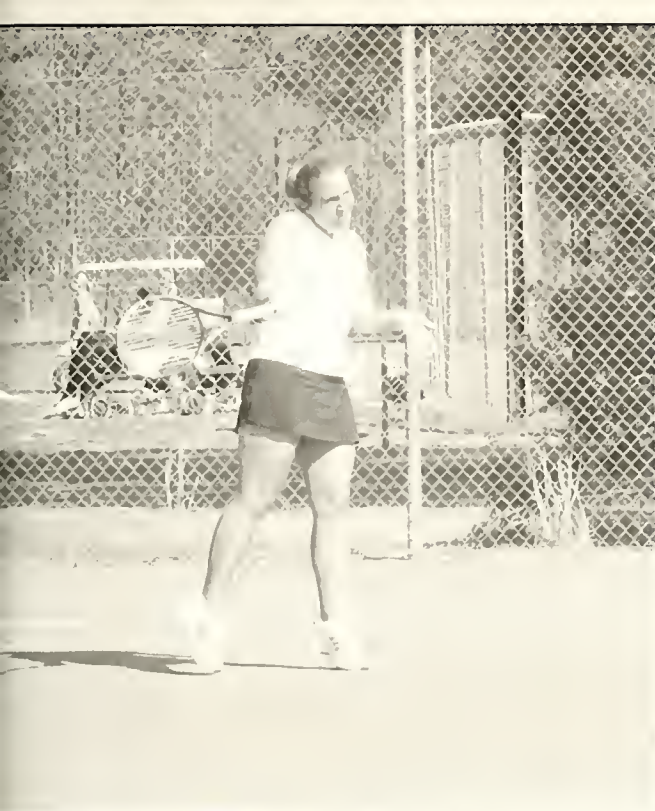

In doubles, Maloney and Jessica Burke defeated Christopher Newport's Pitts and Melissa King 8-4, while Angrick and Bull defeated Caroline Hallum and Jo Brantley 8-4.

2004

Did you find yourself?
Keep reading to see where you are...

Vibrant, Analytical, Narrative,
 Expressive,
 Sensationally Sensible
 Always =
Vanessa

Your motivation and dedication carried you through a journey that very few complete.
 You wear so many hats at such a young age; Dancer, Dance Instructor, Tutor (always taking time to help others), Athlete, Counselor (always listening to others and trying to offer the "best" advice), Cook, Baker, Health Care Provider, Entertainer, and most notably "Juggler" as you manage to squeeze it all in day after day.

We are so Very Proud of You and all of Your accomplishments.

Through the tears
 The disbelief
 The laughter and
 Long nights of endless
 Books to read,
 Papers to write and
 Terms to memorize...
 You made it!

Congratulations
 We Love You So Very Much

So Proud of You, Porscha

Through all of your toils, trials and tribulations, and through all of your tears, stress, struggles and hard work, God has seen you through it all.

May he continue to see you through.

Congratulations on your special day.

We love you Porscha.

May God bless you in every way.

Laura Beth Lester

Congratulations on your successful
Freshman year!!
You make us all
Proud.

Love,
Your Family

In loving memory of.....

Chris Ryan

Our Director of Student Activities Methodist College

Many students knew Chris Ryan for his outgoing personality and as someone who always greeted others with a smile. Eshawn Young, a student who worked closely with Ryan “Amired Chris as a father figure and friend.”

Angel Garcia, another fellow student worker, stated that “Chris loved his job and he spent as much time and effort with us as he would his own family, to me, we were a part of his family.” With such dedication to his job and to the students at Methodist College, Ryan was known to always go the extra mile and according to Ashleigh Radford, “Help out students in every way possible.”

Ryan, director of Methodist College’s Student Activities, will always be remembered for his joyous spirit. He was a dedicated staff member who worked for Methodist College for nearly 16 years.

On September 24th, 2004, Radford found Ryan unconscious in his car. The following evening, at age 41, Ryan was pronounced dead.

A memorial service was held the following Sunday in the Reeves Auditorium on campus where over 100 students and faculty members mourned his loss. Placed in the auditorium, in his memory, a collage hung where those could write their final good byes.

As Director for Student Activities, Ryan was involved in every form of activity on campus including sporting events, student government and student entertainment. He also planned a trip every spring break to Key West.

According to Radford, “Chris was the best thing that ever happened to Methodist.” She said, “Many things have been started here and are now a tradition because of Chris.” Ryan is credited for starting the Academic Development Center, and the Counseling Center. He also helped establish Union Station as the SAC headquarters.

Ryan, who grew up in Raleigh and graduated from Barton College in Wilson, is survived by his wife Susan and three sons, Christopher, Joshua and Caleb Ryan.

A LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Life is hard. Putting this yearbook together was even harder. Sometimes I find myself caught up in projects that are bigger than I can handle. This was no exception.

It's a lucky thing for me that I have such a wonderful support system in my life. Members of my family and my Methodist College family and friends were there for me. For them I dedicate this page.

To Mrs. Lindsey Tederman – I owe so much of my success at this college to your ever giving nature. You were a shoulder to cry on and a helping hand whenever I needed it. Nobody deserves more thanks than you. I will always think of you as more of my friend than my boss. We make a great team. Rock on Nebraska!

To Mr. Paul Joseph and Mr. Robert Bloodworth – Thank you for always believing in me even when I didn't believe in myself. I can never sit by idle and watch men like you work so hard and not want to work hard also. You inspire me to challenge myself and grow. You are Methodist College to me.

To Dean George Blanc – It has been a privilege to be a part of the your Student Life Staff. You have always maintained a level of integrity and a genuine love for your students that I have never seen in a Dean of Students. When I look back fondly on Methodist College, I will think of you.

To my friends, my teachers, and my colleagues at Methodist College – You guys know me and you know that I can be lazy and want to throw my hands up in the air. Thank you for not letting me.

To my Mom & Dad – I would not be here without you – literally. Thank you for telling me that I was worth more than I had. Thank you for giving me the things I could not provide for myself. Thank you for making me walk into the scariest phase of my life. I owe you more than I will ever be able to repay you. More than you will let me repay. I love you.

To Kalei, Eric & Lia and Michael & Liz – Nobody has better siblings+ than me. You make me laugh. I'm so thankful to have you. I love you guys too.

To Rob – Very little of my life would be as happy as it is without you. I'm so glad you thought I was worth so much when I felt like I was worth so little. You are my buddy, always.

Good luck Methodist College. I'll turn my tassle and walk away knowing that I was a proud contribution to this schools history. Cheers to a prosperous future and a magnificent past.
